Protect the vulnerable, without harming society and the economy

Over 55,000 medical doctors, public health specialists and infectious disease experts have endorsed the Great Barrington Declaration, which calls for protection of the vulnerable, especially seniors in nursing homes. The World Health Organization has also called for an end to lockdowns. We should protect the vulnerable, rather than inflict harm on all Canadians through lockdowns.

What can you do?

Educate yourself and others. Share this brochure with your neighbours, friends, family and colleagues. Download a print ready pdf here: www.jccf.ca/covid-19

Contact your federal MP, your provincial MPP/MLA, your city councillor, and tell them to stop violating your Charter rights and freedoms.

Continue to exercise your Charter freedoms of expression, religion, association and peaceful assembly, as your conscience and beliefs dictate. Honouring your conscience may mean risking large fines. If you receive a fine or ticket for peacefully exercising your Charter freedoms, plead "not guilty" and contact the Justice Centre about legal representation.

Donate to the Justice Centre to support our court actions against lockdown measures such as Trudeau's jailing of Canadians in hotels. We are a registered charity and issue official tax receipts.

THE DEADLY COST OF LOCKDOWNS

Justice Centre
for Constitutional Freedoms

Lockdowns are harming millions of Canadians

Death from cancelled surgeries; deaths from delayed surgeries; deaths from cancer because of delayed MRI and CT scans to diagnose cancer; deaths from drug overdoses and suicides; unemployment; poverty; stress, anxiety, and depression caused by isolation and loneliness; massive new debt that our children and grandchildren must repay. Governments remain largely indifferent to the human catastrophe caused by lockdowns.

Unjustified violations of our Charter Freedoms

The Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms guarantees the rights of Canadians to move, travel, associate (gather in-person with friends and family), assemble (peaceful, non-violent protests), worship (including meeting together with fellow believers), express themselves (including the choice of whether to wear a mask or not) and enjoy bodily autonomy (no mandatory vaccinations). Our Charter rights are being grossly violated by governments.

Covid has not impacted death rates in Canada

Over 300,000 Canadians died in 2020, about 5% with Covid and 95% from other causes. Statistics Canada tells us that death rates during 2020 are in line with Canadian death rates in 2019, 2018, 2017 and prior years. This shows that Covid is not the unusually deadly killer that politicians and chief medical officers are making it out to be. For Canadians under 70, the risk of dying in a car accident is higher than the risk of dying from Covid. Children are as likely to die from lightning strikes as they are to die from Covid. See Covid in Canada: nothing much to fear at www.jccf.ca

Laws should be based on facts, not fear-mongering

In March of 2020, politicians said “temporary” restrictions on our Charter rights and freedoms were necessary, based on the fear-mongering predictions by Neil Ferguson of Imperial College in London. Government data and statistics from every Canadian province now prove that these claims were false. The survival rate for Covid is 99.7% yet the lockdowns continue.

Politicians provide no evidence that lockdowns work

The Charter requires politicians to demonstrate that lockdowns do more good than harm. While continuing to promote unfounded fear of Covid, politicians have yet to provide persuasive evidence that lockdown measures have actually saved any lives. Politicians failed to protect vulnerable seniors in nursing homes, who make up more than 80% of all Covid deaths. Instead, they imposed lockdowns on the entire population, an experiment never tried before in human history. The evidence tells us this new experiment is failing miserably, causing massive harms to millions.
