

Dear Mr. Vyas:

Re: Mount Allison University

We write further to our letter of September 19, 2025 and your email to the Director of Administrative Services and the President on September 21, 2025.

Section 12.1 of the Trespass Act does not provide you an exemption to attend campus. The purpose of our correspondence and the ban issued by our client is to make it clear that you are not entitled to be on campus and to rebut any assertion of a “reasonable belief” under section 12.1. You should have no reasonable belief that you have title or interest in the premises. Students living in residence do not have title or interest in residence and cannot provide you permission or justification to attend. Your activities and the impact to campus and the university community have caused significant disruption and individual stress. They are unacceptable and will not be tolerated.

Notwithstanding the above, our client is willing to extend you consideration solely with respect to your delivery work. In that regard, our client is willing to provide you with a two week trial exemption to the campus ban for the purposes of delivering food. The exemption is conditional on you living up to your representation that you “will stay off the premises for [my] activism and evangelism work”. If you agree to stay away from campus, including the crosswalks, sidewalks and streets, and only attend for the purposes of delivery, our client will allow you an exemption to deliver food through Uber Eats. However, you are not to enter any building, distribute materials, proselytize, or engage in any other activities on campus outside of food deliveries. If any member of the university community complains about your behaviour or approach, or if you have been found to violate these conditions, the exemption may be removed immediately. If there are no complaints about your behaviour and you abide by the conditions above, our client will consider extending the exemption on October 7, 2025. Again, I ask that you please stop emailing our client and direct your correspondence to me.

Yours truly,
